

BIO

Keith Sanders is the president of Keith Sanders International, LLC, based in Nashville, Tennessee. Sanders is a communications expert who works with leaders who want to increase their influence in the workplace.

His background in television news and radio management helped him learn how to build strong teams under strict deadlines when emotions are high. Now, through keynotes, training and coaching, Sanders shares his expertise to help managers generate more rapport with the people they supervise, foster stronger relationships to encourage cooperation and, ultimately, increase results! Whether “results” for you means happier customers, a more harmonious office or boosting sales.

In the past decade, Sanders has presented more than a thousand live programs to hundreds of companies and associations in 44 states, Canada and Puerto Rico. Some of his happy clients include Kraft Foods, AutoZone, the United States Army National Guard, Florida Power & Light and the YMCA.
